

Abstract

A retaining ring formed with a plurality of arms and an opening for sliding the ring over the shaft. The 5 arms are formed with a convex shape such that elastic pressure is applied to the shaft. Also, the ends of the arms surrounding the opening have cooperating teeth capable of engaging to lock the ring around the shaft.